

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 23 November 2015

OFFICIAL LAUNCH OF INTEGRATED WELLS AND OPERATIONS TRAINING CENTRE

Today marks the official launch of the Integrated Wells and Operations Training Centre located at the Brunei Asia Pacific Shell Learning Hub (BAPSLH).

The introduction of the Wells Training Centre is an addition to the learning hub's aim of providing additional opportunities in Brunei Shell's efforts to drive improvements in the business and achieve world-class standards in the technical and professional capabilities of our people. The centre will provide Well control competency training through a combination of classroom and simulator training. The upgrade to this training facility includes the acquisition of high tech wells drilling simulator.

Present as the guest of honour at the event was the Permanent Secretary (Energy) at the Energy and Industry Department of The Prime Minister's Office Yang Mulia Dato Paduka Awang Haji Jamain bin Haji Julaihi.

The event started with a welcoming speech by the Managing Director of Brunei Shell Petroleum Co Sdn Bhd Andrew Faulkner and was then followed by the launch and tour of the Integrated Wells and Operations Training Centre.

The opening of this centre will have impact in two areas – To develop and train employees more efficiently and effectively, both on cost and time and; the addition of Wells training capability will further increase the profile of the centre within the region and beyond.

This hub is a demonstration of the company's commitment to continuously develop the capability of Brunei Shell's employees. BSP is also committed to realise His Majesty's vision to have a skilled, competent and efficient set of employees that will sustain the company. This will help the company to continue to Deliver Energy for Life and fuel Brunei's future.

ENDS.
